School report of November

1. Teachers' professional development

- a. On November 6, 13, 20 and 27, all teachers of General Studies, Mathematics, English, and Chinese participated in the "Journey on Learning in Action" seminar held by the Curriculum Development Institute of the Education Bureau.
- b. On November 10, 11 and 13, inspectors from the Quality Assurance Sections from the Education Bureau visited the school to conduct the focus inspection of Chinese subject to understand the development of the school's Chinese subjects.
- c. On December 10, most teachers participated in a positive education teacher workshop to learn positive discipline skills, and also personally tried how to use "Expression Art Therapy" to understand the inner world of students. Our school is committed to establishing a positive teacher-student relationship and a positive learning environment.

2. Students' all-round development

- a. In order to cultivate students' interest in visual arts and promote talent cultivation, the school held the "Installation Art Design Competition" in October and November. The theme of the competition is "toys". Students need to use environmentally friendly materials to reorganize, merge or create a new toy. The response to the competition was overwhelming, and the level of student work was high.
- b. On November 19, our school held a class/level birthday party for the birthday stars from September to December. The birthday stars received the birthday cards and the birthday cakes with individual packings. In the birthday party, students shared joy and happiness with one another.
- c. On November 19, our school arranged P.2 students, P.3 and P.4 Junior Police Call students to visit New Territories South Regional Police Headquarters and Operational Base. Students deepened their understanding of the duties and missions of the Hong Kong polices.
- d. On November 25, the school invited editors of "Happy Earth" to have a talk to share the importance of plastic reduction and climate change. The students also learned how to be an environmental protection editor, which enriched their knowledge of environmental protection.
- e. On December 10, it is the National Constitution Day. Our school held a ceremony of raising the national flag and playing the national anthem through the morning assembly on Zoom. Also, our school launched a series of learning activities, including setting up campus special exhibition boards. Students watch the Basic Law publicity video, participate in the "2020 National Constitution Day Online Quiz" to help students understand the Constitution and the Basic Law, and raise students' awareness of national identity.
- f. On December 22, our school held an "online" Christmas party, which included Christmas English stories, crafts-making, Christmas food making, lucky draw and singing. Everyone had a happy time.

3. Parent-school cooperation

- a. The school issued a notice on November 16 to recruit the 11th executive members of the Parent-Teacher Association, and 8 parents participated in the election. Among them, 1B Lau Kingsley's parents, 2A Chung Janine's parents, 3D Leung Sze Nga's parents, 4B An Mary Z's parents, 4C

Lau Chun Ip's parents, 5B Hu Tat Hoi's parents, and 5C Luo Erica's parents will serve as executive members, and 5B Leung Joan's parents will be co-opted members.

- b. Parent's Day originally planned to take place on November 27 was cancelled due to the epidemic. Class teachers talked with parents about their children's situations or progress in the aspects of habits, learning and test performance on phone.
- c. In response to the "Back on Track" challenge initiated by the "Children Chiropractic Foundation", our school encourages all teachers and students to establish the habit of spine protection exercises.
