Circular on "Fossil Deciphering Learning Programme"

To introduce students to paleontology, earth science, and sustainable living concepts, and to cultivate their scientific thinking and environmental awareness, the school will arrange students to participate in the "Fossil Deciphering Learning Programme" at Nina Park. Nina Park showcases the largest collection of wood fossils among urban parks in Hong Kong, covering approximately 70,000 square feet. The learning program includes guided tours, a "Fossil Deciphering Handbook" activity, and a simulated fossil excavation workshop. The details are as follows:

Students participating in this activity will have to arrange transportation to and from the assembly and dismissal point. The quota is limited. Prospective students and parents please attend on time. If the activity is oversubscribed, the school will arrange the list of participants by drawing lots accordingly. Students with a high attendance rate in past school activities will have a greater chance of being selected for this activity. When the Hong Kong Observatory issues a tropical cyclone warning or rainstorm warning, or the EDB announces a class suspension, the school will contact the organizer to decide whether the activity needs to be cancelled. Parents please pay close attention to eClass notifications.
