

Dear parents of P.3 to P.6,

Circular on AIGC Animation Generation Course and Drone Swarm Flying Course

Our school's 'IT Inno Programme' will launch two courses in April, including the AIGC (AI-generated content) Animation Generation Course and the Drone Swarm Flying Course. In the AIGC Animation Course, students will use advanced AI tools to learn how to design and generate creative digital animations, from story development, character design to producing animated works. This allows them to experience innovative creative methods and develop both creativity and expressive skills. The Drone Swarm Flying Course combines theory and practice. Students will learn about the principles of drones, flight programming, and cooperative drone swarming. They will work in groups to design and complete formation flights, nurturing engineering thinking and team spirit. Outstanding student work may be shown on the online platform or at the STEAM exhibitions, and all students who complete the course will receive a certificate. Details are as follows:

Remarks	Participants will be guided by teachers of the programme and our school

Please complete and return the reply slip on or before 28th March (Saturday). To allow more students to participate, each student may only choose one course and cannot join both. In case of excessive number of applicants, the school will conduct a selection process (students with a high attendance rate in past school activities may have a greater chance of being selected). Parents of selected participants will be notified separately by 31st March. Selected students are required to attend all lessons. If their attendance is low, they may not be able to join other activities in the future. We kindly ask parents to take note of this arrangement. For enquiries, please contact Mr. Wong Chi Wai or Mr. Chow Kwan Kit.

Yours faithfully,

Chow Kim Ho
